

"It was going to change my life unless I did something."

Like a lot of knee pain sufferers, Wilson Totten tried to put up with aches, pains and exhaustion as he went about managing his family's farm near Balcarres, Saskatchewan.

But when the pain got so bad that he faced having to give up farming altogether, he looked around for answers. He found them 250 miles to the south at Trinity's Joint Replacement Center in Minot.

Now he's back on his feet, looking forward to farming his land for many years to come.

"I would like to say thank you to the Trinity Joint Replacement Center because I think its changed both of our lives" – Wilson & Karen Totten
